

Validation Technician - Full Time

Midwest Region

Company Description

BioFly is a regional provider of process, automation, commissioning and qualification services for the pharmaceutical and biotech sectors. We strive to create a competitive and reliable position for our clients within an ever growing world of regulation. The Biofly team draws from their vast knowledge base to identify solutions that fulfill our clients pharmaceutical, biotechnology, or automation project goals.

Job Description

As a Validation Technician for the Midwest Region your primary role will be the management and execution of field testing for major pharmaceutical and biotech clients. This position involves communication and coordination with internal BioFly colleagues, clients and subcontractors. Excellent attention to detail, basic control system knowledge and technical writing skills are required to be successful in this role. Crucial functions associated with this role are:

- Coordinate and execute validation test activities.
- Develop summary reports from collected test data.
- Develop a technical understanding of equipment to be qualified.
- Operate various pieces of Kaye validation equipment.
- Perform calibration and certification of instrumentation and equipment.
- Troubleshoot instrumentation and equipment.
- Interact with internal resources, vendors and contractors on a daily basis.
- Work within EU, FDA and cGMP guidelines.
- Provide field support during site acceptance testing (SAT).

Qualifications

- 3+ years of applicable experience within the pharmaceutical and/or biotech sector.
- Strong technical writing and communication skills.
- Self-starter that can function both autonomously or within a team environment.
- Associates degree in a technical or science related field.
- Familiarity of process instrumentation including temperature, pressure, flow, pH and conductivity.
- Steam sterilization and thermal mapping knowledge is a plus.
- Permanently located within close proximity to Lincoln Nebraska.
- Availability to work in the US without sponsorship requirements.

Salary Range

VT - $45,000 - $65,000